

WILLIAM THAW III IS MISSING AGAIN

Young Millionaire Disappears While on Honey-moon in Jamaica.

PITTSBURG DETECTIVE OFF ON LONG SEARCH

Recently Wed Miss Gladys V. Bradley, of Bridgeport, In New York.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 10.—Detective Frank Lee, who for many years has aided William Thaw 2d in various predicaments, is now hurrying toward the West Indies to pick up the trail of Thaw, who, according to the North Side police and servants of the Thaw household, has disappeared while on his wedding trip.

Thaw was last heard of in the vicinity of Jamaica, according to his Allegheny relatives. He has been known as the most eccentric of Pittsburgh's rich young men. He was married to Miss Gladys V. Bradley of Bridgeport at the St. Regis Hotel in New York December 1 last, and it is understood in Pittsburgh that Mrs. William Thaw 2d, mother of the young man, was obliged to give her word that her son would behave himself before Miss Bradley would consent to marry him.

Meager Details.
But meager details of the disappearance are given out here. Three days ago Mrs. William Thaw 2d, who but two weeks ago suffered the loss of $35,000 in jewels by a house robbery, received word that her son had disappeared on his wedding trip, and she asked the North Side police for the loan of Detective Lee, who has never failed to locate the young man on previous occasions.

Lee left Pittsburgh Tuesday night to begin his search, and at his home it was said he expected to be gone many weeks. At the home of Mrs. William Thaw 2d, it was admitted that the son had mysteriously disappeared, but Mrs. Thaw declined to be seen.

LA FOLLETTE PUTS TAFT ON THE GRILL

Senator, In Open Letter, Wants to Know If President Would Dodge Decision In Cunningham Case.

Would legislation which the President is alleged to be advocating in the Cunningham coal land case impose a burden of double proof of fraud upon the Government? Having once proved fraud, will it have to prove it again? These questions are sharply raised in an open letter addressed to President Taft by La Follette's Weekly, of which Senator Robert M. La Follette is the editor and publisher. Senator La Follette asks whether it is true that President Taft is supporting the two bills pending in Congress under which the determination of the Cunningham coal land case can be turned over from the Executive to the courts.

The bills include one which specially provides for the transfer of the decision of the Cunningham case from the hands of the President to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia; and a general bill providing for a transfer of the decision of all land cases from the Executive to the courts.

May Be Turned Over to Court.
Under either bill, the decision in the Cunningham case may be turned over to the District Court of Appeals.

La Follette's Weekly wants to know why it is the President wants to be relieved of the responsibility for deciding the Cunningham case.

"What considerations of public policy demand," it asks, "is that the unbroken precedent of years should be reversed just at a time, as the public was led to believe, when the decision on the Cunningham claims was imminent at your hands?"

"Is there any consideration that may be presented to Congress other than that of saving the Secretary of the Interior the embarrassment of having these claims canceled in the face of his own defense of them?"

It is pointed out that the President made known his intention of taking personal cognizance of the Cunningham case.

Sees No Reason for Step.

Recalling that Secretary Ballinger long ago announced that he considered himself disqualified from acting in regard to the Cunningham case, La Follette makes this statement to the President:

"But now that you have assumed the responsibility of the decision, there appears no reason why the extraordinary step of seeking legislation to wrest the case from your hands should be taken—a step which will effectually postpone the cancellation of the Cunningham claims for an indefinite period."

"The Government already has proved the claims fraudulent. If the case is tried over again, the Government will be in the position of being obliged to prove them fraudulent a second time before they are canceled."

"Never before in the history of the Land Office has such a burden been placed on the Government as is now recommended by the bill proposed in behalf of the Secretary."

"No such stumbling block to prompt disposal of land cases was ever devised until the Cunningham claims were pending before you for adjudication."

Prepared in Advance.
"Moreover, if either bill becomes a law, in the second consideration of this case the claimants will have the extraordinary advantage of knowing in advance the exact lines of attack of the Government, both as shown by the record of the hearings already held and as indicated in the brief recently submitted to you by Messrs. Gifford and Amos Pinchot."

"The further effect of the passage of either, or both, of the bills urged by the Secretary of the Interior will be to increase materially the already great expense incurred in the determination of the case. It will put off indefinitely the cancellation of the entries, and consequently the development of the immense mines which lie within the claims—mines which should be promptly opened up when Congress has passed the legislation properly protecting the public interest so greatly needed for the development of the Alaskan coal fields."

Question of Relief.
"After assuming the responsibility for the patenting or withholding from patent in the Cunningham claims entries, do you now wish to be relieved of it? Is it your desire that at the eleventh hour Congress should take from your hands the jurisdiction of this case—a jurisdiction you voluntarily and publicly assumed? If so, upon what grounds of public policy or of public benefit?"

Urges Monument Over President Tyler's Grave
A report has been made to the House from the Library Committee favoring the erection of an appropriate monument over the grave of President John Tyler. An appropriation is asked for, in the report, but the amount is not named.

Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, made the report. He believes that the grave of President Tyler should be marked, and he believes that the graves of all American Presidents should be marked, if patriotic societies or States in which they lived have not already done so.

NO OLIVE BRANCH TO OLIVE OIL DEALERS

Superintendent of Weights and Measures Says They Must Not Cheat.

Some olive oil dealers are as "smooth" as their product, according to Colonel Haskell, Superintendent of Weights and Measures.

From time to time "household hints" emanate from the colonel's office, and today brought forth the last—a bit of advice to wives, mothers, daughters, and sisters to purchase their oil of Lucca by the measure and not by the can.

For two months, Colonel Haskell has been investigating the sale of this product, and in the beginning, he says he discovered that the cans of oil in many instances contained from 10 to 20 per cent less than the standard measurements.

"The cans were of standard size but were not filled," says Colonel Haskell in a report to the Commissioners.

"We are advised by the Corporation Counsel that dealers in selling olive oil in cans, which are not filled to their capacity, are violating the law by selling short measure. Dealers found to be selling short measure by the can or otherwise, will be prosecuted."

"The necessity for a net weight package law is demonstrated in the sale of this commodity as emphatically as in that of other commodities sold in packages of the net weight package bill now before Congress would be of great benefit to the consumer."

Physician and Family In Fear of Hydrophobia
OSSINING, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Dr. Amos O. Squire, who is coroner here, his wife, five-year-old daughter Evelyn, and the child's nurse, Gertrude Jordan, are going to New York to take the treatment at the Pasteur Institute. The treatment is being taken merely as a precautionary measure, as the officials at the institute do not believe that any of them are in danger of hydrophobia.

All the members of the family, however, handled more or less a pet collie belonging to the doctor, which the physician killed last Saturday after it had suffered for several days with what at first was thought to be a cold.

As a safeguard Dr. Squire had the dog's head examined at the Pasteur Institute and the verdict there was that it had had rabies. Dr. Squire and his family will continue the treatment for eighteen days.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS
Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer.

This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been cured, to those who are in need of it.

In an interview on the subject a prominent local druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows immediate results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact that it fulfills every wish in overcoming kidney, liver, and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

A free trial bottle will be sent by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. Regular size bottles sold at all druggists—50c. and $1.00.

Simply Splendid To Break Up a Cold

Try this common sense treatment just before going to bed, and quickly get rid of sore membrane, discharge of mucus, crusts in the nose and that feverish condition.

Into a bowl three-quarters full of boiling water, pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, (pronounce it High-o-me) cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the soothing healing vapor for five minutes.

This is known as the HYOMEI vapor treatment, and is being used more and more by people who have discovered the folly of swallowing nauseating drugs to cure an inflamed condition of the mucus membrane of the throat.

Mrs. G. Boeger, 21 N. Madison St., Wauwaton, Wis., keeps HYOMEI in the house all the time, and on Sept. 26, 1910, she wrote:

"I know that for breaking up colds and coughs HYOMEI is excellent, it has been breathed by every member of our family with success. For catarrh relief I would ask for nothing better than HYOMEI. It certainly has saved me a great amount of suffering and also doctors' bills."

You can buy a bottle of HYOMEI at Henry Evans, James O'Donnell, and druggists everywhere for only 50 cents, but if you also wish to purchase a hard rubber pocket inhaler with which you can breathe HYOMEI at any time or place, ask for HYOMEI outfit. The outfit costs $1.00. The inhaler will last a life time. Mail orders filled charges prepaid by Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Booklet on catarrh mailed free.

HYOMEI IS GUARANTEED
For Catarrh, Colds, Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Sore Throat, and Catarrhal deafness. If it doesn't end these troubles, your money back.
